AUTHOR: Michael P. (Mick) Vort-Ronald was born in Adelaide in 1943. As a teenager he collected minerals, stamps and coins, and was a Queen's Scout. At the age of 16 years and two weeks he joined the South Australian Police Force and graduated in 1963. He was stationed at Adelaide, Whyalla, Angaston, Nuriootpa, Swan Reach, Port Pirie, Whyalla and Mannum - the last two towns as a sergeant for nine years.

At the age of 18 years he joined the Adelaide Gem and Mineral Club and was given Life Membership in 2012 for 50 years continuous membership. He was president of the club on ten occasions and is editor of its magazine "The Fossicker". He was president of Yorke Peninsula Gem and Mineral Club four times and was elected president of the Mineralogical Society of South Australia in August 2011. Most of his original gem and mineral collection was sold to help finance his first book in 1979, but a new larger collection of gems, minerals, fossils and meteorites was displayed in his museum until it closed on 19.12.2008. He still collects minerals and is a member of the Australasian Mining History Assoc. and the SA Police Historical Society.

As a specialist on Australian banknotes he wrote for the Australian Coin Review from 1975 and became its final editor from 1999 to 2001. He now writes monthly for the Australasian Coin & Banknote Magazine. His Australian Coin Review Index was published by the Numismatic Society of S.A. in 2002. From 1976 he has part-authored the banknote sections of Renniks Australian Coin and Banknote Guides and from 2000, the Australian notes in the Krause World Paper Money catalogues in the U.S.A. He has written and self-published many reference books on Australian banknotes; Australian Banknotes (2 editions), Banks of Issue in Australia, Australian Decimal Banknotes (2 editions) and numerous illustrated banknote albums. He also wrote and published a large family history book Hoskins of South Australia in 1995 and published a small book on China in the 1920s, Chinese Embers, by Eva Dower. For his work on Australian notes he was elected a Fellow of the Numismatic Society of South Australia in 1985, later serving five terms as its president, and is currently its treasurer and newsletter editor. As president of the Northern Yorke Peninsula Coin Club (later the Yorke Peninsula Collectables Club) from 1990 to 2009, he designed the last ten of its Cornish Festival medallions and was awarded Honorary Life Membership in 2009. Two medals were designed for Encounter 2002 (Flinders and Baudin), and an Adelaide Treasury medallion. In 1993 he received the Tasmanian Numismatic Society A.J. Lockwood Award for his contribution to numismatics and in August 2009 received the Numismatic Association of Australia's Paul Simon Memorial Award and medal for his outstanding contribution to organised numismatics.

In 1988 he auctioned his Australian banknote collection, resigned from the South Australian Police Force after 28 years service and purchased a two-storey ex-bank building in Kadina where he operated Australia's only private Banking and Currency Museum from 1988 – 2008, winning 10 regional tourism awards including Tourism Excellence, and Best Attraction five times. He "retired" on 19.12.2008 aged 65 years, "sold up" and moved to Willaston (Gawler) in 2009 to continue with his writing and publications.

Other activities included treasurer of the Kadina National Trust and Farm Shed Museum for 13 years (receiving a State Honour Award in 2008) and secretary-treasurer of the Yorke Peninsula Tourism Association. He is a member of the International Banknote Society (Sydney) and Honorary Member of its Melbourne Chapter. His banknote photography was used in Peter Steele's "Collect Australian Banknotes", for 1991 and 1992 Telecom Finance calendars, and a set of exclusive phone cards. In 2005, "Australian Banknote Pedigrees", and annual updates from 2006-2015., "Money Boxes from Banks, Building Societies, Credit Unions" and five editions of banknote album interleaves. In 2007 (& 2008) he appeared in "Who's Who in South Australia" and published, "Shinplasters" (2), "Promissory Notes", "Miscellaneous Notes (2)", Jim Johnson Mineralogy Letters, and Joseph Phillips, Skinner's Bottom, Cornwall. In 2008, CAB Index, Eight volumes on South Australian Bank Branches, Superscribed Banknotes; S.A. Promissory Notes, Polymer Banknote Album (3rd. ed.), Banking and Currency Museum. 2009, Cornish Festival & Encounter 2002 medallions, Mick Vort-Ronald in The Fossicker (Adelaide Gem & Mineral Club), Australian Superscribed Banknote Album, Polymer Banknote Album (4th. ed.), Uncut Vertical Banknote Pairs Album, Australian Cheques, and Pass Books. 2011, Vort-Ronald Banknote Collections, Australian Private Banknote Pedigrees. 2012., Australian Banknote Errors, Australian Colonial Currency & Promissory Notes (2nd. ed.), Police Gazette Extracts 1888-1892, Angaston's First Cemetery 1847-1869, and Barossa Valley Crime & Punishment. 2013, Australian Specimen Banknotes, Australian Miscellaneous & Political Propaganda notes, Swan Reach Police, Mannum Police, Police Station Personnel. 2014, Australian Modern Numismatic (NPA) Banknotes; Gammon Ranges 1959 (scouting); Cheques of the USA; Cheques of the World; Hay Internment Camp Notes & War Savings Certificates; Joseph Phillips 2nd ed., Miscellaneous and Political notes 2nd ed. 2015, Vort-Ronald in CAB, seven volumes of Hoskins of S.A., S.A.
